

I love cryptography!

Moved all letters by 7. 7 is the number that came to me first. That's the logic behind me moving every letter by 7 placeholders.

The Zynga leak.

Zynga is a gaming company responsible for popular games like Words with Friends, Draw Something, and Farmville. On September 12th of 2019 Zynga announced the company had a data breach. At the time they didn't discuss the number of players impacted. In November of 2019 through Have I Been Pwned users found out how much info was leaked, almost 173 million users had their passwords and email addresses leaked. Although it is in the top 10 largest breaches of all time, the breach wasn't nearly as drastic as it could have been.

The released information included your zynga username, the email used to sign into zynga, and passwords were leaked as salted hashes. Meaning hackers still had to decode them before they could gain access to the account. A pakistandian hacker was responsible for the breach. He did it to sell the information.
